CONDITIONS OF SALE.

- I. The highest bidder to be the buyer. If any dispute arise the Auctioneer shall have absolute discretion to settle it; and to put any disputed lot up again.
- II. No person to advance less than 1s.; above five pounds 2s. 6d.; and so on in proportion.
- III. All lots are sold subject to the right of the seller or his agent to bid or else to impose a reserve.
- IV. The purchasers to give in their names and places of abode, and, if required, to pay down 10s. in the pound in part payment of the purchase-money, in default of which the lot or lots purchased to be immediately put up again and re-sold.
- V. The lots to be taken away, at the buyer's expense, immediately after the conclusion of the sale; in default of which Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will not hold themselves responsible if lost, stolen, damaged, or otherwise destroyed, but they will be left at the sole risk of the purchaser. If at the expiration of one week after the conclusion of the sale, the books or other property are not cleared or paid for, they will then be catalogued for immediate sale, and the expenses, the same as if re-sold, will be added to the amount at which the books were bought. Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. will have the option of re-selling the lots uncleared, either by public or private sale, without any notice being given to the defaulter.
- VI. All the books are presumed to be perfect, unless otherwise expressed; but if, upon collating, any should prove defective, the purchaser will be at liberty to take or reject them, provided they are received back within Fourteen Days after the conclusion of the sale, when the purchase-money will be returned.
- VII. The sale of any book or books is not to be set aside on account of any worm holes, stained, or short leaves of text or plates, want of list of plates or blank leaves, or on account of the publication of any subsequent volume, supplement, appendix, or plates. All the manuscripts, autographs, all magazines and reviews, all books in lots, and all tracts in lots or volumes, will be sold with all faults, imperfections and errors of description. The sale of any illustrated book, lot of prints or drawings, is not to be set aside on account of any error in the enumeration of the numbers stated, or error of description.
- VIII. No Imperfect Book will be taken back, unless a note accompanies each book, stating its imperfections, with the number of lot and date of the sale at which the same was purchased.
- IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.
- X. Upon failure of complying with the above conditions, the money required and deposited in part of payment shall be forfeited; and if any loss is sustained in the re-selling of such lots as are not cleared or paid for, all charges on such re-sale shall be made good by the defaulters at this sale.

Messrs. SOTHEY & Co. are prepared to advise intending purchasers, as far as possible, and will execute bids on their behalf, free of charge. Lots will be procured as cheaply as is permitted by other bids or reserves, if any.

- 144 KEAN (C.) A. L. s. 6 pp. 8vo, Edinburgh, 13 Mar. 1861, to Buchanan:

Asking him to write notices upon Louis XI, Hamlet and Richard III. The attack on him as Richard III in the Scotsman is presumably at Theodore Martin's instigation "an enemy who leaves no stone unturned to do me an injury. In early life it was the Macready clique, now it is Punch & its outsiders." Shirley Brooks writes the London Letter to about 29 provincial papers and is largely to blame. 'How full of briars is this working day world,' etc.

- 145 KEAN (C.) A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, Dublin, 4 Dec. 1836, to his Mother:

A good start, commenced with Hamlet to the best house ever. Repeats Hamlet tomorrow by Lord Mulgrave's desire. Afterwards, to Manchester. Went to Lady Morgan's party last night where he met the aristocracy. Sir E. Blakeney asked him to dinner. "On Wednesday I play Lear. Thursday Richard." Henry Young was more excited than ever in Sir Giles, etc.

L. of Mrs. Chas. Kean (3)

- 147 GOETHE (J. W. von) An important Holograph Memorandum, 3 pp. 4to, initialled "G." and dated July 27, 1792, dealing with matters concerning the administration of the Weimar Theatre, addressed to his co-director Kirms; this Memorandum consists of twelve paragraphs, and possibly was part of the "Hoftheater—Commissions Acten" now preserved at Weimar; it is of particular interest, dealing with some of the problems arising in the early days of Goethe's management as Weimar (he had been appointed in the preceding year, 1791).

References are made to theatres at Altenberg, Lauchstedt and Erfurt, engagement of actors, plays for rehearsing, etc.

A Goethe relic of the greatest interest.

This Correspondence is ENTIRELY UNPUBLISHED, and refers to: Fairfax, Sir J. Harington Fanshaw. Expects no mercy from reviewers and wants none. Prays the reviewers to read half dozen of Shakespear's Sonnets before criticising Camoens. Byron is a first rate translator, Coleridge torments his poet, Patines is from Shakespeare; English poor in terms of endearment. His Arabian Nights, Nilotic superstition; the unreality of poets describing what they've never seen; his Book of the Sword; Swinburne glorious but mustn't be followed; fat is damned progressive, the Gold Coast, wants a house near Tangiers, Wolseley, Khartoum, the British square broken by savages with swords and spears, Cholera at Venice; The Gosse-Hunt-Lamb craze, the Scented Garden, Priapeia, etc.

- 164 BUTLER (Major Pierce) A. L. s. 1½pp. 8vo, Philadelphia, 21 Jan. 1806 :

If the holders of shares in the Salvador Lands think of meeting the necessary advances . . . it should be done promptly—hitherto I have made myself responsible for the necessary expenditures in Carolina. One hundred and twenty suits of ejectionment cannot be brought without much writing, sacrifice of time and some money.

- 165 HOBHOUSE (John Cam) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo (1817), to John Murray :

I return three of the Illustrations . . . send them to be half-bound tightly for travelling, as also three half-bound copies of the last edition of Childe Harold Canto IV. An opportunity offers of sending them to Italy. [To Byron].

* Hobhouse wrote the notes for the 4th Canto of Childe Harold, and the poet dedicated the work to him.

- 166 MOORE (Tom), Poet. A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Jan. 12, 1830, to Simmons at Mr. Davison's, corrections for his "Life" of Byron :

. . . Upon the same occasion [the illness of Lady Byron] he [Byron] wrote some verses in a spirit not quite so generous, of which a few of the opening lines is all I shall give :

And thou wert sad—yet was I not with thee;
And thou wert sick—yet I was not near," etc.

- 167 GUICCIOLI (Countess) A. L. s. 4 pp. 12mo, to a lady, sending a "précieuse relique" of Lord Byron—LAMB (Lady Caroline), Byron's friend. A. L. 1 p. 4to, 23 Nov. 247 BREVIAIRY. USE OF LILLE. MANUSCRIPT ON THIN VELLUM, WRITTEN IN 1516 BY JOHANNES DE LACU, CANON OF THE CHURCH OF ST. PETER AT LILLE; written in a neat gothic hand, double columns, 24 lines, 325 ll.; numerous initials in gold and colours, many containing a realistically painted flower, smaller initials in red and blue with pen-work in green, red or blue dotted with gold; ORIGINAL BINDING OF BLIND STAMPED CALF OVER WOODEN BOARDS BY LUDOVICUS BLOC; two panels on each side containing animals within curving vine-sprays surrounded by the legend "OB LAUDEM XPRISTI LIBRUM HUNC RECTE LIGAVI LUDOVICUS BLOC" (binding repaired at joints); EXCEPTIONALLY GOOD IMPRESSIONS OF THE PANELS IN VERY FINE CONDITION, in morocco case, by Riviere (148 mm. by 103 mm.) LILLE, 1516

 On the last leaf is the colophon giving the name and date of the scribe: "Completū per me Jo. de lacu canonicū insuleñ die xix mensis febr. anno partus virginalis mill'io quingentesimo decimo sexto."

Johannes de Lacu (d. 1557) was one of a distinguished line of members and benefactors of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter at Lille. He succeeded his uncle as Canon and in old age retired in favour of his nephew. He was a religious author, a philanthropist and founder of the orphanage of La Grange.

No other MS. of a Breviary of the Use of Lille appears to be known. See E. Hautcoeur, Doc. Liturg. de l'église de St. Pierre de Lille (Lille-Paris, 1895), I, p. 413: "Pas un seul exemplaire manuscrit du Breviaire (de Lille) n'est parvenu jusqu'à nous."

On folios 177B-178A is a passage in red: Nota quod singulis diebus feriatis post quamlibet septem horarum pro salute anime Domine Balduini Comitis Flandrie Ecclesie Collegiate Sancti Petri Insulensis fundatoris dicitur unus septem psal-morum penitencialis. This refers to the so-called Psalmus Comitis which the Canons added to their liturgy. Another passage in red (folio 93B) is the special procession Processio Insulensis founded by Johannes de Lacu the elder, uncle of the scribe of this manuscript.

IN FINE CONDITION. A fine Flemish Horae of the School of Bruges also bound by Ludovicus Bloc was sold in these rooms 5 June, 1929, lot 419.

From the Huth collection, lot 991. Shown at the Burlington F.A. Club's Exhibition of Bookbindings (1891). Case B7, plate VIII of the catalogue.

- 248 PSALTER WITH CANTICLES AND LITANY. ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM WELL WRITTEN IN A BOLD ENGLISH gothic SCRIPT, 18-19 lines, 214 ll.; EIGHT LARGE HISTORIATED INITIALS PAINTED IN A CHARACTERISTIC ENGLISH STYLE ON GROUNDS OF BURNISHED GOLD (the miniature of David and Goliath on folio 1 rubbed); fine marginal figures on ff. 90B, 153A and 164B; numerous other initials in gold and colours including a series containing male and female heads, line-fillings in burnished gold, red and blue, marginal decoration of a few leaves slightly shaved, blind stamped brown morocco, by Bedford
(154 mm. by 105 mm.) ENGLISH, XIII CENT.

 At end is bound a leaf containing part of a writ dated Westminster, 20 Oct. 14 Ed. II (1320), by Robert de Baldock, arranging for the payment of the debts of John . . . to the Royal Exchequer (Robert de Baldock, Lord Chancellor, d. 1327).

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 249 PSALTER WITH CALENDAR, CANTICLES, LITANY AND VIGILS OF THE DEAD, MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, well written in a good gothic hand, double columns, 22 lines, 152 ll.; NINE DECORATIVE MINIATURES in gold and colours within rectangular frames, all with part or full borders chiefly of bar design with ivy-leaf sprays; numerous large and small initials and bar-pattern line fillings in gold and colours; old French red morocco in blue morocco case (7 $\frac{1}{8}$ in. by 5 $\frac{5}{8}$ in.) FRENCH, EARLY XV CENT.

 Probably written and decorated in N.W. France, possibly at Rouen or Evreux.

[See ILLUSTRATION.]

- 250 MISSALE AD USUM ROMANUM CUM CALENDARIO. MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM well written by an Italian scribe in a good liturgical gothic hand, double columns, 26 lines, 334 ll; before the Canon of the Mass a MINIATURE OF THE CRUCIFIXION IN GOLD AND COLOURS ON A BLUE GROUND ($4\frac{5}{8}$ in. by $5\frac{1}{8}$ in.); FIFTEEN HISTORIATED INITIALS IN GOLD AND COLOURS, containing miniatures of saints and biblical subjects (two somewhat rubbed); twenty-five decorative initials in colours, nearly all on a ground of burnished gold; over twenty-pages with fine marginal decoration of massive conventional foliage in warm colours and burnished gold, some introducing birds and grotesques; numerous large and small initials in red and blue with fine pen-work decoration; the upper outer corner of folios 63-81 and a few other leaves slightly defective; the Calendar, folio 83 and the last three leaves in a later hand; otherwise the manuscript is on the whole in good condition with wide margins; modern wooden boards, half covered with brown morocco, metal catches and clasps (13 in. by $9\frac{3}{4}$ in.). ITALIAN, LATE XIV CENT.

251 MISSAL OF THE ABBEY OF ST. AMANT-DE-BOIXE [ANGOULÊME].

ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM; written in a bold gothic hand, in red and black, 106 ll. TWO FINELY PAINTED FULL-PAGE MINIATURES BEFORE THE CANON, one of the Crucifixion, the other of Christ enthroned surrounded by the emblems of the Four Evangelists, both within broad borders of naturalistic flowers painted within compartments on alternate grounds of gold and blue; at the foot of each a coat-of-arms (or, a cross gules) supported by two angels and surmounted by an abbot's mitre and crozier; three other pages within borders painted in a similar style, one having a ground of silver; numerous large and small decorative initials in red and blue with pen-work decoration; ORIGINAL FRENCH BINDING OF STAMPED CALF OVER PAPER BOARDS, decorated with vertical rolls of fleur-de-lys, the sacred monogram, three turreted towers, double-headed eagle, S. Andrew's cross with knots, a diaper roll of fleurs-de-lys within lozenge compartments, etc.

(12 $\frac{3}{8}$ in. by 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ in.). FRENCH, EARLY XVI CENT.

* Contents. Folio 1. Common of Time. Folio 17. Prefaces. Folio 27. Canon. Folio 35. Proper of Saints. Folio 60. Common of Saints. Folio 78. Votive Masses. Folio 90b. Various Offices. Folio 98. Mass of the Five Wounds of Christ. Folio 101. Exorcism of salt and water.

In the lower margin of folio 1 is the signature Laroche-foucauld. John III de la Rochefoucauld, Bishop of Mende, was 30th Abbot of St. Amant-de-Boixe (1515-1538) and was succeeded by his nephew (John IV) whose signature this probably is.

On folio 42 recto the Office of S. Amantius mentions that the Saint's body lies in the church.

It is, therefore, practically certain that this missal was written for the Benedictine Abbey of S. Amantius de Buxia in the diocese of Angoulême, a daughter house of the Abbey of S. Eparchius in the same diocese. On folio 48 verso in the manuscript is the feast of S. Eparchius.

- 252 PSALTER AND BOOK OF HOURS. ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM, WELL WRITTEN in a very good and clear gothic script, 24 lines, 207 ll. THREE VERY FINE FULL-PAGE MINIATURES AND TWENTY-FOUR LARGE MINIATURES BEAUTIFULLY PAINTED IN GOLD AND COLOURS; twenty-four miniatures in the Calendar of the occupations and the signs of the zodiac; old calf, gilt tooled, in calf case (6 $\frac{7}{16}$ in. by 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ in.; 164 mm. by 120 mm.). FRENCH, XIII CENT.

 This fine manuscript is decorated in a very good Northern French style. The three full-page miniatures are beautifully painted on burnished gold grounds and each contain two subjects within circular compartments (1) The Annunciation and the Nativity; (2) The Adoration of the Magi and the Presentation; (3) The Ascension and Pentecost. Each of these miniatures has six miniatures of saints in quadrilobate compartments surrounding it. The Calendar miniatures of the occupations and the signs of the zodiac are painted on lozenge-shaped panels of burnished gold resting on a coloured quatrefoil ground of red or blue. The first page of the psalms is enclosed within a bar border of burnished gold containing lacertine animals. In the margin is a boy holding a hoop. The twenty-four large historiated initials are also very finely painted on grounds of burnished gold, the faces in outline, and are on the whole in very good condition. Numerous large initials in burnished gold on grounds of red and blue with bar extensions in the margins.

The decoration of the Calendar has been cut into at top, otherwise the manuscript is in very good condition. At the beginning and end some additional matter from other manuscripts of later date has been bound in.

Some early notes of ownership show that the manuscript belonged to the families of Remond and Lambert.

Oxford, and Dean of Lincoln, and one of the translators of the Bible (Authorised Version, 1611).

The work, by Matthew Sutcliffe, Dean of Exeter, is the first edition printed in Germany. The Author founded the Polemical College at Chelsea, and was interested in the early settlement of New England. Captain John Smith in his Generall Historie, 1624, mentions that the Dean encouraged him in his schemes. In 1606-7 Sutcliffe became a member of the Council for Virginia, and in 1620 of that for New England. In 1624 he was one of the Commissioners to wind up the affairs of the Virginia Company.

The Property of the late James Fleming, Esq.

of Aldwick Grange, Sussex.

- 564 BURNS (ROBERT) POEMS, CHIEFLY IN THE SCOTTISH DIALECT, FIRST KILMARNOCK EDITION, a grease stain on top corner of title, a few minor stains on four of five leaves, title and A 1 slightly soiled, minute holes through blank upper margin of Contents leaf, and blank inner margins of several leaves, not affecting the text, but apart from these small defects a good sound copy, measuring 8 in. by 4 $\frac{3}{4}$ in. contemporary calf, WITH THE BOOKPLATE OF JAMES, EARL OF GLENCAIRN KILMARNOCK, 1786

 AN ASSOCIATION COPY OF EXTREME INTEREST. Lord Glencairn's kindness to Burns, and the beautiful lament of the Poet on his patron's decease, are well known. Burns put on mourning for his death and called after the Earl his next born son, James Glencairn Burns, afterwards Major of the East India Company's service. See also note to next lot.

- 565 SCOTT (SIR WALTER) GOETZ OF BERLICHEN, with the Iron Hand; translated from the German of Goethe by Walter Scott, Esq. Edinburgh, FIRST EDITION, inscribed on the fly-leaf "To Sir Alexander Don of Newton Bart, M.P., &c., &c. This, being the first published work of Walter Scott, Esqre. (now wholly out of print and never to be reprinted), is most respectfully presented. Bonington House, 12 Nov. 1818," blue morocco gilt, g. e. 1799

 James, Earl of Glencairn, died 1791, and was succeeded by his brother, the 15th Earl, who died 1796. To his estate succeeded his sister, Lady Harriet Cunningham, who married Sir Alexander Don of Newton, Roxburghshire, 5th Baronet, who died 1815. Their son, Sir Alexander, 6th Baronet, M.P. for Roxburghshire, died 1826, was the friend of Sir Walter Scott and since 1818 the presentation copy of Scott's first published work has accompanied the Glencairn Burns. On the death of the 7th Baronet in 1862 the direct line of the family failed; the title continued, but the family possessions were sold. These volumes, however, had been passed on at an earlier date, possibly on the death of the 6th baronet. For some period they were in the library of George Jerdan, Kelso, whose name is written in both. George Jerdan (d. 1850) was a Writer and owner of the "Kelso Mail" newspaper, to which his son William Jerdan succeeded. On the latter's death in 1875, the property, and perhaps also these books, was sold by trustees. The next recorded owner, David Barlas, Solicitor, Edinburgh, died about 1910, and they were sold by his daughter, at these rooms, on 13 November, 1926, to the late Mr. Fleming, a distant relative of the Earls of Glencairn.

(N.B.—These Letters are as yet entirely unpublished; the copyright is not included in the sale but is in the control of the Executor of the late Arnold Bennett.)

600 BENNETT (Arnold) Upwards of 600 signed Letters, about four-fifths of which are holograph, the rest typed, but all signed with monogram or initials, containing more than 150,000 words, written nearly every week to his nephew and adopted son, Richard Bennett, 1916-1931, while the recipient was at Oundle, at Cambridge, and in business; of the earliest letters only a few have been kept, but from August, 1919, till the writer's death early in 1931, the series is practically complete, ending with the last letter which the great novelist ever sent, carefully arranged in chronological order, and inserted in eleven "Springback" covers, in specially made cabinet with compartments, covered in cloth, fall-down lid protecting top edges, lettered with dates and title

 A magnificent series of letters, indispensable to the biographer of Arnold Bennett and of the greatest value to the social historian of London in the post-war years. They record, with shrewd and humorous and often extremely outspoken comments, the daily life of a most remarkable man, who though frequently ailing and a perpetual sufferer from insomnia, managed to know "everybody" in the literary, theatrical and musical circles of London, to act as Director of more than one theatre, to spend practically every night of his life in company and to write on an average 1,000 words a day of literature or journalism throughout the year; probably no other English author but Robert Browning lived so full a social life—and Browning had far fewer other interests than Bennett. We hear much of the plays and novels; we learn, for instance, who was the original Lord Raingo, and how another peer liked it to be supposed that he was; we hear which plays were successful and which were not; occasionally we read of difficulties with actors and actresses and managers—of an enormous row, for instance, with one of the latter, who was utterly defeated. The progress of "Imperial Palace" is carefully recorded, and the visits to the Savoy, at which the author gathered his material are described with gusto; the whole hotel was open to him and he collected information stiff with fanciful details.

There is much in the letters about recreation, particularly yachting, of which A.B. was very fond, and travel; southern France, Portugal, Cornwall and many other pleasant places are visited, generally by car or yacht; in England he plays tennis and he dances everywhere, finding himself on one occasion gravely inconvenienced by not knowing how to tango, and on another that he terribly needed dancing lessons. But above all he goes to evening entertainments, concerts, prize fights, films and plays of every kind, from musical comedy to the most high-brow of modern plays—nothing comes amiss, though the reality does not always come up to the anticipation; a New Year's Eve dinner is noisy, vulgar and costly; a play by a famous dramatist gives him 3 hours 50 minutes of the most intense tedium; another play—not by the same author—is partly A1, partly C3, and the rest tolerable; and a certain quartet can be characterized only by an epithet popularized by Mr. Bernard Shaw; on the other hand, a famous war play is described as very good indeed and jolly well acted, and a juggler at the Palladium gives intense pleasure, and is quite in the classical tradition.

We hear much of the writer's domestic affairs, and learn a good deal of his characteristics, particularly his devotion to system; he tries hard to make his nephew as methodical as himself, insists on him writing every week a letter which always has to arrive by the same post on the same day, so that it might be answered at once in an hour specially allotted to it. He gives a generous allowance, but expects an exact account of expenditure, drawn up in a form approved by himself. He himself lives by rule, giving up a definite part of each day to work and exacting from himself a definite output, as if he were at once an Egyptian taskmaster and a Hebrew bricklayer. A curious feature of the letters is the method of address and signature; they generally start "My dear Rich." and are signed A.B. in a kind of monogram, but other openings are "Honoured Sire," "Moucher," "Sweet Sir," and so on; one letter is signed "Arnold Benedetto"; always the signature is preceded by the words Your (adjective) uncle, the adjective varying in the most unconventional manner from letter to letter—the uncle being in turn commencing, frivolous, basking, occupied, filming, futile, and many other things—sometimes alas damaged, insomniac, migrainish or neuralgic—occasionally some remarkable compound, like "your masculine thank God uncle" after the irritating visit of a female relative who had criticized his house for lacking the feminine touch; in the very last letter of all he is, with tragic prescience, obsolescent.

There are many glimpses of the great; after an evening with four very famous members of the Houses of Parliament, the host and Bennett agree that they have seen Hell with the lid off! A well-known peer thinks that he could re-write the Four Gospels but finds on making the attempt that he cannot manage the dialogue; the holder of a title proves to be a nice ignorant chap; the wife of one friend is beautiful but boring, and the widow of another a lively podgy piece; a critic has become a swollen-headed highbrow, and so on.

WITHOUT DOUBT THIS IS THE LONGEST AND MOST INTERESTING SERIES OF LETTERS BY ARNOLD BENNETT IN EXISTENCE; it is far racier and more entertaining than the Diaries which were written for publication.

The Property of a Lady.

- 601 RUSKIN (John) Fifteen A. L. s. 33 pp. 8vo, 1861-71, to his mother, intimate letters, sometimes of poignant interest, about his health, bodily and mental, his love for Rose La Touche, the Irish girl whom he hoped to marry and whose death in 1875 was one of the great sorrows of his life, his life in the Lake District and elsewhere, and his religious opinions :

... Rosie looks best in little saucy things—her red Garibaldi cap is beautiful. The violet tones her down a little too much. Or she does well with quite plain things—her little printed frock and purple belt, and bare head—pale rose-colour and gold in the sunshine.

... I wish people would pray less for me, and do more. I don't pray for people—I help them if I can—and if I can't—I say it's my fault.

I'm very thankful to be able to take my stick, as I'm just going to do, and say—"Wet or dry—I'll walk up Skiddaw"—It's different from poor Fielding without the use of his limbs at my age, and perhaps it's better to have written Sesame and Lilies than Tom Jones—if one is to get a nice wife—Or indeed—anyhow.

... Our old Inn ... exists no more ... [instead, there is] a vast hotel built in the railroad station style ... with coffee-room—smoking-room—and every pestilent and devilish Yankeeism that money can buy, or speculation plan.

I could do a great deal by running up and down to Oxford [from London], if I felt the railroad safe, but I'm always frightened on them and think it a definite risk of life not to be incurred if avoidable (15)

- 602 FITZGERALD (Edward) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Oct. 14, 1875, to Ruskin :

Just 50 years ago I was boating with Tennyson on Windermere: And he quoted to me from his yet unpublished 1842 Book—(the Mountain reflected in the water, etc.)

Nine days she wrought it, sitting all alone

Among the hidden bases of the hills

"I don't think that so bad, Fitz"—I did not think so either, then or now: but rather think he had better have left King Arthur alone from that time forth, instead of turning him into Prince Albert, and otherwise quite failing in the Legendary World, which is best shadowed in the old Prose Romances. Is it not? etc.

- 603 LEOPOLD (Prince) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, May 10, 1875, to Ruskin—
NORTON (C. E.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Feb. 24, 1869, to the same—
LA TOUCHE (Mrs. M.) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, to his cousin Joanna Ruskin Agnew, afterwards Mrs. Severn, etc. (5)

The Property of Lady Alexander.

- 604 WILDE (Oscar) Two A. L. s. $7\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, 16, Tite Street, n. d. to Sir George Alexander about an advance of £50 (Wilde's signed receipt for which accompanies the lot) :

... Of course I am in your debt £50 . . . I want you not to ask me to pay you at present, as I am in a great mess about money, and really will not have any till September, when the "Duchess of Padua" goes on tour in America (3)

- 605 WILDE (O.) A. L. s. (Oscar), 4 pp. 8vo, to the same, King James's Theatre, King St., St. James's, S.W. n. d. (probably Feb. 1895), says that he is :

... served with writs for £400—rumours of prosperity having reached the commercial classes—and my hotel is loathsome to me I want to leave it. On Sunday I hope to send you, or read you the vital parts of my Florentine play—I think you will like it, etc.

 The Florentine play is presumably "A Florentine Tragedy," a play in blank verse written 1893-4, but never published till the issue of the collected edition in 1908; a portion of the MS. was sold at Wellington Street on July 27, 1911.

- 606 WILDE (O.) A. L. s. (Oscar), 18 pp. 8vo, n. d. The Haven, 5, Esplanade, Worthing, A VERY INTERESTING LETTER, giving the complete sketch of a play which was never written. It was to be a novel treatment of the "eternal triangle," and the author thought it

... extremely strong. I want the sheer passion of love to dominate everything—no morbid self-sacrifice—no renunciation—a sheer flame of love between a man and a woman. That is what the play is to rise to—from the social chatter of Act I, through the theatrical effectiveness of Act II, up to the psychology with its great denouement of Act III, till Love dominates Act 4 and accepts the death of her husband as in a way it's proper right—leaving Love it's tragedy—and so making it a still greater passion, etc.

- 607 WILDE (O.) A. L. s. (Oscar) $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, The Haven, 5, Esplanade, Worthing, n. d. to the same about an agreement; and A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo (in pencil), to his manager Mr. Shone, telling him to write to Lord Queensberry :

... and say that you regret to find that the seat given to him was already sold—and return him his money. This will prevent trouble—I hope (2)

 The seat was no doubt for "The Importance of Being Earnest," and the letter refers to the quarrel with the Marquis of Queensberry which led to Wilde's downfall.

- 608 WILDE (O.) A. L. s. (Oscar), 16 pp. 8vo, 16, Tite St. Chelsea, to the same, A VERY IMPORTANT LETTER, giving him a complete first draft of "The Importance of Being Earnest"

 This very interesting synopsis gives the play essentially in its final form, but there are many changes in detail: Algernon Moncrieff, for instance, is Lord Alfred Rufford, and John

Worthing is Bertram Ashton; the play is untitled, and there is no Ernest, the fictitious brother being called George, nor is there a Bunbury—indeed, the only character whose name is unchanged is Miss Prism, the governess.

At the end of the draft the letter continues:

Result

Author called.
Cigarette called.
Manager called.

Royalties for a year for author.

Manager credited with writing the play. He consoles himself for the slander with bags of red gold.

Fireworks.

Of course this scenario is open to alterations: the third act, after entrance of Duchess [Lady Bracknell] will have to be elaborated: also, the local doctor, or clergyman, must be brought in, in the play for Prism—

Well, I think an amusing thing with lots of fun and wit might be made, etc.

Goes on to ask for an advance, and apologise for his extravagance, which he excuses by pleading that he has to maintain two establishments—his own and his mother's.

- 609 WILDE (O.) A. L. s. 16 pp. 8vo (in pencil), The Hotel Albermarle, Piccadilly, London, to the same, a very interesting letter, discussing in detail rehearsals of "Lady Windermere's Fan," and dealing at length with points which should be altered:

... Details in life are of no importance, but in art details are vital. In the comedy scenes people should speak out more, be more assertive. Every word of a comedy dialogue should reach the ears of the audience. This applies specially to the Duchess, who should be larger in assertion, etc.

- 610 WILDE (O.) A. L. s. (incomplete, lacking the first 4 pp.), 20 pp. 8vo (in pencil), The Hotel Albermarle, Piccadilly, London, to the same on the same subject, arguing at great length that the secret of the play—namely what hold Mrs. Erlynne has over Lord Windermere—must not be disclosed in the Second Act:

... I am sure you yourself will on reflection recognize ... that a work of art wrought out on definite lines, and elaborated from one definite artistic standpoint, cannot be suddenly altered. It wd make every line meaningless, and rob each situation of its value. An equally good play could be written in which the audience would know beforehand who Mrs. Erlynne really was, but it would require completely different dialogue, and completely different situations. I have built my house on a certain foundation, and this foundation cannot be altered. I can say no more.

- 611 WILDE (O.) A. L. (incomplete), 4 pp. 8vo, to the same explaining why he had given the refusal of his next play to John Hare:

I shall always remember with pride and with pleasure the artistic manner in which you produced my first play, and the artistic care you showed, down to the smallest detail of production, that my work should be presented in the best possible manner ... but I have always been anxious to have some work of mine produced by Hare, etc.

Other Properties.

- 612 KIPLING (R.) AUTO. MS. POEM, "THE QUEST," four stanzas, signed on 1 p. 4to; sold with it is an A. L. s. from Captain E. W. Martindell, certifying the MS. to be undoubtedly in Kipling's hand

C. A. Goodnot, Greek Professor George R. Howell; C. I. Ingram, Statesman; Wm. Prestin Johnston, Educationalist; James Lanman; Samuel Lathrop:

The great cry raised against the Federalists now is that they wish to secede from the Union—A calumny as destitute of truth as it is of evidence to support it . . . Mr. Lincoln has been very unfortunate in all his public communications, and I think, not less so, in the orders he has given to certain military officers, etc.

Charlton T. Lewis, lawyer and mathematician; Theodore Lyman, scientist; Daniel March, author; E. Mulford; F. B. Perkins, author; Ellis H. Roberts; B. Silliman, chemist; William H. Stiles, Confederate Officer; F. Wharton, Professor of Law; H. Winslow, author; J. B. Varnum, author, etc.

- 622 BURKE (Edmund) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, undated, relative to a work upon which he is engaged :

As the part you wish me to send you is that which has this morning been essentially altered, the sending it to you would only tend to mislead you & to give you double work. If you can call upon me with the paper noted by Mr. Fox, we may work together in the parts with our ideas have met & on the modifications suggested by Sir Gilbert Elliot.

- 623 BRADISH (Luther), Speaker in the House of Assembly, New York. Interesting series of 48 A. L. s. and Original Auto. Coleridge, signed "J.T.C." or "J.C.T." and a few with "Jteesi" in imitation of his uncle's "Esteesi." Poems by the Rev. George Coleridge, H. N. Coleridge, and upwards of twenty by S. T. Coleridge. J. T. Coleridge has not hitherto been known as a poet, and apart from his Oxford Prize Poem, "Pyramides Egyptiacae" (a MS. copy of which is in the present volume) none appears to be published. The poems of S. T. Coleridge present variations from the published texts. The last fourteen pages are in the autograph of H. N. Coleridge (Sir John's brother, and S. T. Coleridge's literary executor).

- 635 COLERIDGE (Samuel Taylor) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, 13 May, 1796, to J. Fellowes, relative to the failure of his work "The Watchman":

Has received a note from him through George Dyer. Received an alarming account of Mrs. Coleridge's health and hastened home, and has been struggling with a series of domestic sorrows and external disappointments "as have depressed me beneath writing point. . . . I have now dropped the 'The Watchman'—and could not drop it without expressing the warmest feelings of Gratitude to you, Sir, and my other friends at Nottingham for the unexpected & friendly hospitality with which you received the itinerant Patriot . . . had the miscellany succeeded in the towns in anything like the same proportion, I should have made my future—I did not sell more even in Bristol," etc.

- 636 COLERIDGE (S. T.) "What Metaphysically the Spirit of God is? What the Soul? What the difference between the Reason and the understanding, and how metaphysically we may explain St. Paul's assertion that the Spirit of God bears witness to the Spirit of man?" Very fine and important A. L. s. 12 pp. 4to, Bury St. Edmunds, 13 Oct. 1806, to T. Clarkson, the Slave Trade Abolitionist, UNPUBLISHED:

What the Spirit of God and the Soul is he dare not suppose himself capable of conceiving . . . "they are known by those to whom they are revealed . . . Our faith is built wholly either on blind bodily feelings arising in ourselves or caught contagiously by sympathy with the agitation of a superstitious crowd around the Fanes (Fanatics) . . . Seraphs and purified Spirits may burn unextinguished in the pure elementary fire direct knowledge . . . our Faith resembles sublunar Fire, that needs the Fuel of the Congruous . . . to maintain it . . . I have a distinct Thought of a Rose Tree; but what countless properties and goings on of that plant are there, not included in my Thought of it? But the Thoughts of God, in the strict nomenclature of Plato, are all Ideas, archetypal, and anterior to all but himself alone . . . Unitarianism is Atheism or Spinosism," etc.

- 637 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, with envelope, to John P. Parker, Tavistock House, Dec. 24, 1857:

. . . we can agree to differ on the Total Abstinence question. I have my convictions on that subject, and they are not yours. But you cannot detest drunkenness more than I do, or hold in greater horror the evils that follow in its train. If the two words, Use and Abuse, have very different significations in my mind, so have the two words, Right and Wrong. And I know as well as all the Bands of Hope and anti-alcoholic leagues between this and the moon, that that drunken habits are tremendously wrong, and that nothing can make them out to be right.

- 637A DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, n. d. to J. D. Buckstone about a theatrical performance:

. . . Your Pantomime is all important at present & of course you must stick to it. I did not suspect that our fair friend opened her mouth quite so wide in these times, when there are not many camels prancing out of Theatrical Treasuries & demanding to be swallowed, etc.

The Property of Mrs. A. Hunter.

- 638 DODGSON (Rev. C. L. "Lewis Carroll") Two A. L. s. 5 pp. 8vo, Nov. 27-29, 1888, to Mrs. Hunter about the play of "Alice in Wonderland":

. . . I will be very happy to lend you a copy of it: but it is my only copy, so I must beg that great care may be taken of it . . . it would be an affectation of secrecy to sign 'Lewis Carroll' to this, considering how long a time Lord Bute was a near neighbour of mine, living overhead, in the rooms I now occupy. I keep the secret from the outer world so far as I can, etc. (2)

- 639 DODGSON (Rev. C. L.) Three A. L. s. 9 pp. 8vo, 1889-91, to the same, friendly letters about Mrs. Hunter's daughters, Sir Noel Paton, moral and mathematical problems, the future life, etc. (3)

- 651 COLERIDGE (Samuel Taylor) A. L. s. 3 pp. 8vo, Grove, Highgate, Wednesday, 25 July, 1827 :
 . . . with exception of one or two Eels in the World's Snake-bag, it is in ourselves that we can alone expect to find peace and comfort. Mr. Green (one of my prime Eels) well observed yesterday—the older I am, the more charitable I grow; and the worse I think of men in general—an apparent paradox . . .
- 652 COLERIDGE (S. T.) Auto. MS. 2 pp. 4to, concerning the training necessary to ensure success at the Bar
- 653 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. 2 pp. 16mo, at Forster's, Saturday Night, mentioning Harrison Ainsworth :
 My dear Horne,
 I am . . . most unjustly and untruly charged with having written a book after Mr. Ainsworth's fashion . . . I shall take an early opportunity of temperately replying . . . I could have no objection to set my hand to what I know to be true concerning the late lamented John Sheppard . . .
- 654 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, 10, Camden Crescent, Dover, 13 August, 1852, to Sir Frederic Murchison :
 . . . Our curl paper correspondent is a maniac I suppose? There seems to be an attraction in me for all the mad people. They will take me into their confidence. On woman in Scotland has left me such an immense amount of imaginary property that I think of retiring on it . . .
 The people at the Australian Diggings ought to send you a few waggon loads of gold as a testimonial.

- 655 DICKENS (C.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 21 July 1867, to Percy Fitzgerald:

... I have settled nothing yet about America, but am going to send Dolly out on the 3rd of next month to survey the land ... Proposals (both from America and English Speculators) of a very tempting nature have been repeatedly made to me: but I cannot endure the thought of binding myself to give so many Readings there, whether I like it or no ... I have been doing two things for America—one the little story to which you refer ...

10. 659 JENNER (Edward) A FINE A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to, Berkeley, Feb. 17, 1816, to his son Robt. Jenner, Exeter College, Oxford:

... Among us medical men, the month of March is considered as the most trying to a second rate constitution ... a stock of wine the property of an undergraduate, could not from the nature of things remain a stock long ... never then wd I lay in more than a hamper at a time. Be assured I do not mean that you should purchase an inferior sort ... tho' the only difference is that one destroys the Constitution sooner than the other ...

6. 660 JENNER (E.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, 1 Jan. 1812, to Mrs. Cuming, saying he is sorry to learn that she has a cold, says the medicine given was simply Paragoric Elixir

- 671 LAMB (C.) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Colebrook Row, Islington, 1st Feb. 1826, to Mr. Hudson, Legacy Office, Somerset House, concerning a nurse for a lady who requires restraint. She would require eight and twenty shillings a week, finding her beer and washing

- 672 MOORE (George) An interesting series of eleven A. L. s. one unsigned, c. 1918, nearly all containing interesting references to his own works, he quotes a passage from "The Chicago Daily News" :

A "Story Tellers Holiday" will ultimately be classed with "The Decameron" and the "Arabian Nights," yet it deserves higher praise than either of these classics.

- 673 PASTEUR (Louis) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, '28 July, n. y. saying he has asked for a ten day's holiday for Jean Baptiste; with another A. L. s. of the same, 1 p. 8vo, to Noel-Bretagne (2)

- 674 POPE (Alexander) A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Twittenham, Jan. 5 [1726/7], regretting that a bill had remained unpaid, says his hand is not quite recovered "as ye may see by this scrawling"

- 675 SHELLEY (Percy Bysshe) A. L. s. "P.B.S." $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 4to, Florence, n. d. to John Gisborne :

It is worth a line written from the Stationers Shop near the post office, to tell you that I this moment hear that the rest of my money is safe. You will receive it in a few days.

Most affectionate yours

P.B.S.

- 676 SHELLEY (P. B.) Auto. MS. 4 pp. 4to (one corner torn off), from a note book, n. d. but probably early, the watermark of the paper being 1806, some passages are crossed through but are legible; this interesting MS. gives some of the author's early reflexions on life, e. g. Justice as well as benevolence is an elementary law of human nature :

Let it not be objected that Patriotism and Chivalry and sentimental love, have been the fountains of enormous mischief. They are cited only to establish the proposition that according to the elementary principles of mind, Man is capable of desiring and pursuing good for its own Sake.

- 677 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, 13, Gt. Coram St. July, 9, 1840, to Mr. Thornton Hunt, a candidate for the Librarianship of the Western Literary Institution :

... we were connected together for some time in the Editorship of a Daily Paper, where I had plenty of opportunity to judge of you . . .

- 678 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Reform Club, Monday, 20 Novr. a very outspoken criticism of an article sent him for publication

- 679 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. $1\frac{1}{2}$ pp. 8vo, 36, Onslow Sq. June, 16, 1859, to Lady Molesworth :

... I was coming to see you last Sunday but the will of Heaven prevented for who but a cabman could go out in that thundering deluge? and I wanted to say as how we had a party at home that evening you asked us . . .

The Property of a Gentleman.

- 680 CHARLES II. Doc. s. 1669, with other Royalty, in a folio album, red morocco gilt

- 681 DICKENS (Charles) A. L. s. "C.D." $1\frac{1}{4}$ pp. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 17 Dec. 1865, to Lady Molesworth :

... I am literally doubled up, either with lumbago or rheumatism in the back:—I don't know which, and it don't much matter . . . having promised to read to the Chatham people on Tuesday, a thing which I could not now stand for five minutes to do . . . being for the time a disabled object.

- 682 DODGSON (C. L.) A. L. s. 3 pp. 16mo, Ch. Ch. Oxford, 1887, to Mrs. Dyer Edwards, mentioning "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," "Through the Looking Glass," "Rhyme? and Reason?" and other of his own books; T. Carlyle, A. L. s. to L. Grote; Anthony Trollope, A. L. s.; Robert Browning, A. L. s.; William Black; Maria Edgeworth, several A. L. s.; General Gordon, Minute Despatch written in Arabic; Philip and Mathew Henry; and many others of literary, medical and scientific interest, in a folio album, red morocco gilt
- 683 FRENCH CELEBRITIES. Guizot, George Sand (2), Eugene Sue, Scribe, Coppée, Napoleon III, Louis Philippe, and many others, in a folio album, red morocco gilt
- 684 TENNYSON (Alfred, Lord) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 1866, to Mr. Pritchard, saying that he cannot persuade himself to dine at a public dinner—DARWIN (Charles) Portion of A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, 1877—WHISTLER (J. McNeill) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, mentioning the Leyland Room—LEAR (Edward) A. L. s. 3½ pp. 8vo; Admirals Anson and Rodney, and numerous others of literary and artistic interest, in a folio album, red morocco gilt
- 685 THACKERAY (Wm.) A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, no place or date, to Lady Pollock, mentioning his CHRISTMAS BOOK:
- ... It was very kind of you to come and call on Mrs. Pendennis and when my Xmas book is done (and it is all but over) I shall bring her to see you. You must know I am very proud of her.
- And 2 others

DICKENS (Charles) A VERY FINE SERIES OF AUTO. LETTERS ADDRESSED
PETER CUNNINGHAM, AUTHOR AND CRITIC

- 686 A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 21 April, 1848, concerning a theatrical production :

I am very anxious—with a view to our making a great success—to receive news of Lumley [manager of Her Majesty's Theatre] . . . It appears to me very important that your committee should be in a condition to get out some announcement of the plays immediately . . . It would be expensive to hire the Haymarket . . . The Stratford Theatre will hold I take it, at high prices about £200. The company being at Birmingham, it would certainly be desirable to act there to so much money . . .

- 687 A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 2 May, 1848 :

I have arranged to have tickets, bills and everything that is to be in print, ready in proof for you tomorrow . . .

Goes on to speak of the commencement of the rehearsals

- 688 A. L. s. "C.D." 1 p. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 5 May, 1848 :

. . . I would come to you, but that I have something I must do, in connexion with my cheap Edition . . .

- 689 A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 12 May, 1848 :

I shall look to hear from you at Miss Kelly's tonight . . . Something was suggested by Lemon last night which certainly renders it undesirable—unless you have already issued the newspaper tickets—that none of them should be in the second tier of boxes, I will explain why, when we meet.

- 690 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 12 May, 1850 :

Many thanks for your valuable book in its new form, and for your inshrinement of those words about the horrible scene in Horsemonger Lane . . . Wills is a capital fellow for his work, but decidedly of the Nutmeg-Grater, or Fancy-Bread-Rasper School you mention . . . I am delighted with the Christ's Hospital subject . . .

- 691 A. L. s. "C.D." 2 pp. 8vo, 13 May, 1848, referring to the numbering of the seats at the Haymarket Theatre

- 692 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 18 May, 1848 :

I have taken all the preliminary proceedings, this morning, in reference to Liverpool. I hope to move in the Birmingham business tomorrow. No time must be lost.

- 693 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, May 2, 1848, saying that he intends to be at Miss Kelly's Theatre in Dean Street, all day

- 694 A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 24 May, 1848, announcing that he is going to Birmingham on Friday morning; A. L. s. "C.D." 1½ pp. 8vo, Royal Hotel, Birmingham, 26 May, 1848:

They think it very important here, that the Leamington and Stratford people should know, from authority, that we are not going to play in either of those towns, as, they say, it will bring people here . . . (2)

- 695 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 10 June, 1848:

Enclosed I send you a cheque for the tickets Mrs. Cowden Clarke had . . . I think there will be another performance in Birmingham, on Tuesday fortnight. I am in communication with Glasgow and Edinburgh,

- 696 A. L. s. "The Manager," 1½ pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 8 May, 1848:

The enclosed has been sent me, for the House Fund, by Miss Louisa Wanley (at least I suppose she's a Miss—God knows) of Sambourne, Warminster, Wilts. With a happy mixture of fact, fancy and facetiousness. I have briefly acknowledged its receipt.

So no more at present from The Manager.

- 697 A. L. s. 3½ pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 28 July, 1848:

. . . if you could bring that "green-a-lock" of yours, down to Broadstairs one Saturday—tomorrow week, for example. There is a Margate boat leaves London Bridge Wharf at half past 3 on a Saturday afternoon. I would meet you at that pearl of the ocean—entertain you at Broadstairs (where we have a house) in my accustomed geniality until Monday morning . . . How are the archaeological dummies? . . . An infatuated of the name of John Clow Tennant, of Liverpool, wishes to become a member of the Shakespeare Society . . .

- 698 A. L. s. "C.D." 1½ pp. 8vo, Broadstairs, 27 August, 1848, concerning the Shakespeare Committee; A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 13 Oct. 1848, saying he expects Cunningham on Monday; A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, 28 Feb. 1849, accepting an invitation to dinner (3)

- 699 A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, Devonshire Terrace, 18 March, 1851:

I observe, with the terror which a Public Office awakens in a well-regulated mind, that the enclosed power of attorney from Poole, appears to require (see margin) Registration at that awful establishment [The Audit Office, Somerset House] where you (and the Ordnance Maps ?) keep the Nation's clock perpetually right to a second. Once more, will you shield me from the eye of office!

- 700 A. L. s. "C.D." 1 p. 8vo, Knotsford Lodge, Great Malvern, 20 March, 1851:

You are the likeliest man I can think of, to help me in a theatrical difficulty. Do you know any correct print of Wills' Coffee House, that can be begged, borrowed, stolen, bought, sketched, or looked at? I want such a scene for Bulwer's comedy . . .

- 701 A. L. s. "C.D." 1½ pp. 8vo, Great Malvern, 23 March, 1851:

. . . It is a notion of the Interior of Wills' that I want. It was on the first floor, I believe, over a Hosier's? I take it, it ought to be wainscoted room in panels? . . .

- 702 A. L. s. 1½ pp. 8vo, Devonshire Terrace, 9 May, 1851, inviting Mrs. Cunningham to the Dress Rehearsal at Devonshire House on May 12th, 1851

- 703 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, 26 April, 1852 :

My wife and sister-in-law (accompanied by Mrs. Lemon and Mrs. Wills mean to join us at Birmingham on Tuesday the 11th, coming down . . . by the express train. If you should have any idea, under the circumstances of giving Mrs. Cunningham what a friend of ours would call "a hout," they would be delighted.

With L. sub. and s. of the same (2)

- 704 A. L. s. "C.D." 2 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, 11 May, 1858 :

He is visiting Greenwich to shew the place to Mr. Felton ". . . a Greek professor from America—for whom I had a great regard when I was across the water, and who is a noble fellow . . ."

- 705 A. L. s. "C.D." 1 p. 8vo, Tavistock House, 7 Feb. 1854 :

I know you must be going out to dinner somewhere today, but be false to somebody and dine with me at 5, at a hurried little spread of half a dozen at Waite's Hotel, Gravesend. It is my birthday. I am going down by Blackwall train at 12—then by boat—for a walk's sake . . .

- 706 A. L. s. 2½ pp. Tavistock House, 11 March, 1854, referring to "Hard Times," suggests that an article in the "Illustrated London News" on his new book was written by Cunningham :

. . . I don't know where you may have found your information, but I can assure you that it is absolutely wrong. The title was many weeks old, and chapters of the story were written, before I went to Preston or thought about the present strike . . .

 A LETTER OF THE GREATEST POSSIBLE INTEREST.

- 707 A. L. s. "C.D." 1 p. 8vo, 18 March, 1854 :

Here it is. I should have asked you to take one with you when you were here yesterday, but I had not then got them from the printer . . .

With two A. L. s. of the same concerning meetings of the Literary Fund (3)

- 708 A. L. s. "C.D." 1 p. 8vo, Office of All the Year Round, 1 Feb. 1855 :

Next Wednesday is my Birthday again—So the years go round! Will you repeat the little party of last year on the same day, at Wate's [sic] at Gravesend. Dinner hour 5 to the moment.

- 709 A. L. s. "C.D." 1½ pp. 8vo, Boulogne, 28 June, 1858, inviting him to France :

. . . You will want no passport "Restant à Boulogne chez M.C.D. Chateau des Molineux" is a sufficient response when you are asked for one. Bring some work. I shall go at every day until lunch, and after that period shall become a sybarite with surprising constancy.

- 710 A. L. s. 2 pp. 8vo, Tavistock House, 11 Feb. 1859 :

. . . When my Library Edition of my books is complete, I shall ask you to find room for it on your shelves. Let me take this opportunity of saying to you in good humour, that I wish you had not inconsiderately repeated any monomaniacal nonsense about me, and had not lent yourself to such preposterous statements as that I pay Mr. Yates's costs against the Garrick Club . . . What . . . could lead you to suppose it possible there was one word of truth in all this pestilential childishness?

- 711 A. L. s. "Wilmot," 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 5 Decr. 1863 :

I am delighted to get the hearty letter of my old Wills' Coffee House friend, Le Trimmer; and again the shade of poor dear Middlesex crosses me, saying "Here's Peter—wont come on, you know!!" then in a ghostly manner, raps snuff-box, and fades into the other world . . . God bless us all this coming Christmas, and give us Christmas thoughts! of which your letter is full, and so most welcome. My love to your good wife and to you

Ever faithfully
(albeit once managerially)
your noble friend
Wilmot.

- 712 A. L. s. "C.D." 1 p. 8vo, Gad's Hill Place, 15 Feb. 1865, mentioning "Our Mutual Friend":

. . . My work has been so prolonged to day that I write in the dark, and must send this over to Rochester through the snow . . . I hope you will not like Our Mutual Friend worse, when you know him better. With two Programmes (3)

- 713 DICKENS (C.) Works, LIBRARY EDITION, 19 vol. cloth, 1858; loosely inserted in vol. I is an A. L. s. from Charles Dickens, $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, Tavistock House, Tenth November, 1859, to Peter Cunningham:

This set of my Library Edition, in remembrance of an old engagement between us, Charles Dickens.

- 714 DICKENS (Mrs. Catharine) A. L. s. 4 pp. 8vo, 70 Gloucester Cres. Regents Park, 1855, to Mrs. Peter Cunningham, respecting the death of Mrs. Dickens' Mother; and Miss Thackeray, two A. L. s. (3)

- 715 LITERARY. A large correspondence addressed to Peter Cunningham from James Hogg. "The Ettrick Shepherd," Charles Knight, Shirley Brooks, Douglas Jerrold, including an Auto. - 717 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. "W.M.T." 1 p. 16mo, 36 Onslow Sq. May 28, n. y. to Mrs. Cunningham, thanking her for . . . a byootiful present of marmalade . . . my daughters and their papa are delighted with the present . . . With a short A. L. s. of the same to Mrs. Cunningham, asking for the loan of the Handbook of London (2)

- 718 THACKERAY (W. M.) A. L. s. $\frac{1}{2}$ p. 8vo, n. d. to Mrs. Cunningham :
 . . . There is going to be a man's dinner here today at 6 $\frac{1}{2}$. . . If Cumingham is disengaged and you could spare him it would make the would make the party all the pleasanter . . . only frock coats are admitted.
- 719 THACKERAY (W. M.) A fine A. L. s. 1 p. 8vo, Heidelberg, July 17, 1858, to Peter Cunningham :
 . . . No one will be more ready than myself to contribute to set you at your ease, not merely for you sake but for that of the dear wife and children . . . shall send my whereabouts with my September number D.V. to Bradbury & Evans in some 10 days from this writing.

 one with signature cut away), covering 24 pp. 8vo and 4to,
c. 1840, to Thos. Powell at 2 Leadenhall Street :

He discusses at length the publication of a modernized Chaucer. He mentions that he is sending him a copy of his Poems, and in one letter speaks of the "Prologue." When about to start for a three months holiday he writes : "I thought it right previous to my departure to revise several MSS. written at different periods of my life; and which have been utterly lost but for the attention I have been bestowing upon them . . ."

2. Give a rouse.

King Charles, and who'll do him right now?
King Charles, and who's ripe for fight now?
Give a rouse: here's, in Hell's despite now,
King Charles!

Who gave me the goods that went since?
Who raised me the house that sank once?
Who helped me to gold I spent since?
Who found me in wine you drank once?

(Cho.) King Charles, and who'll do him right now?
King Charles, and who's ripe for fight now?
Give a rouse: here's, in Hell's despite now,
King Charles!

^{3.}
To whom used my boy George quaff else,
By the old fool's side that begot him?
For whom did he cheer and laugh else,
While Hollis' damned troopers shot him?

(Cho.) King Charles, and who'll do him right now?
King Charles, and who's ripe for fight now?
Give a rouse: here's, in Hell's despite now,
King Charles!
